

CONTINUES TO ATTACK TAFT

ROOSEVELT SPENT ANOTHER
DAY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Devoted Large Part of Speech at Pittsfield in Reply to Hints Taft
Had Been Saying During Day at Other End of State.

Pittsfield, Mass., April 29.—"If you vote for Mr. Taft you vote for these men," said Col. Roosevelt here tonight after referring to Senators Lorimer, Penrose, Gallinger and Guggenheim. He declared that the president had practically nothing in his campaign back of him, outside of two or three states, except the support he received from those men, "and their like and from the great special interests which stand behind these bosses."

Colonel Roosevelt devoted a large part of his speech to a reply to the things President Taft had been saying during the day at the other end of the state. At intervals on the journey across the state, the colonel received telegraphic reports of the president's speeches and in the latter part of the day he entered upon a long distance debate by retorting to Mr. Taft's statements. Mr. Roosevelt said the president had asserted that the colonel was stirring up class hatred. This Colonel Roosevelt denied.

Talks of Class Hatred.
"The talk that I am stirring up class hatred is arrant nonsense," he declared. In this same connection he said:

"If Mr. Taft's policy of flabby indecision and of helpless acquiescence in the wrong-doing of the crooked boss and the crooked financier is permitted to continue there will really grow up a class hatred in this country. There will grow up a very uncomfortable and very ugly feeling of discontent with political, social and industrial conditions. The colonel made it clear that he did not believe the result of his campaign hinged upon the outcome of tomorrow's primaries."

Closing Address.
With his address in Pittsfield tonight Colonel Roosevelt wound up his speech-making in Massachusetts. In his speaking here tonight Colonel Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Taft in his speech today has announced that I am trying to stir up class hatred and excite discontent. I ask for you to look for yourselves at my speech of last Saturday in Boston. The speech in which I developed in detail certain of the ideas of my Columbus speech for which I have been most criticised. I ask you to see if you can find anywhere in that speech any appeal to class hatred except of the class of the crooks, political and financial alike. I ask you to hunt through that speech and see whether you can find any stirring up of discontent in it excepting of discontent with trickery, with political dependency, with cheating, with oppression."

"I have, it is true, preached abhorrence of Mr. Lorimer and that for which Mr. Lorimer stands, and of the kind of crooked politics and crooked finance which in combination are responsible for the production of Mr. Lorimer. But as regards most even of the bosses whom I oppose, I have not preached hatred of them. I do not hate them, I merely wish them to retire to private life and quit governing us. If they will stop governing us against our will, we don't want to be governed. I will very gladly stop saying anything about them whatever."

Talks for Humanity.
"Mr. Taft says that I teach class hatred and excite discontent. Does Mr. Taft regard me as stirring up class hatred because I ask for a law in New York to prevent women from being worked excessive hours in factories? Does he regard me as stirring up class hatred because I stand for a woman's compensation? Does he regard me as stirring up class hatred because I demand that the state and nation co-operate to make the conditions of life and labor better for wage workers; because I demand that state and nation co-operate to help the farmer, to shape conditions so that the farmer shall have not only a better chance to get in the open country, the opportunities for social and industrial development which will enable him to keep his boys and girls in the country instead of seeing them flock to the towns?"

"The talk that I am stirring up class hatred is arrant nonsense. On the contrary, I am advocating action which will be the most effective kind of antidote to class hatred, whereas, if Mr. Taft's policy of flabby indecision and helpless acquiescence in the wrong-doing of the crooked boss and the crooked financier is permitted to continue, there will really grow up class hatred in this country. There will grow up a very uncomfortable and very ugly feeling of discontent with political, social and industrial conditions."

Criticizes Taft Supporters.
"Mr. Taft says that his supporters are not bosses, but patriotic leaders. Is Mr. Lorimer a patriotic leader? Is Patrick Calahan of California, the man whom Frank Haun indicted, a patriotic leader? Are Messrs. Guggenheim and Evans of Colorado, patriotic leaders? Is Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, a patriotic leader? Aldrich and Cannon are patriotic leaders and not bosses? Does Mr. Taft mean that Mr. Cox of Ohio, is a patriotic leader?"

"If it is any comfort for Mr. Taft to call Lorimer, Cox, Penrose,

Members of Party Confident Taft's
Second Invasion of Bay State
Will Bring Votes for Him to Polls
To Day.

Boston, April 29.—President Taft ended a 12 hours campaign through Eastern Massachusetts in Boston tonight. From the time he began his speech making at Attleboro, with a talk on the tariff until he made his last address at Melrose and asked for "a square deal," the president spurred his husky voice into strenuous action. It was one of the hardest campaign days Mr. Taft has spent since he entered the White House, but members of his party were confident to night that his second invasion of the Bay state will bring votes for him to the polls tomorrow.

Mr. Taft's last long address was made at Lowell, to an audience which packed the opera house. So eager was the crowd to gain admittance, that several members of the president's own party could not get in until long after he started to speak. When he came to talk about the bosses and Mr. Roosevelt's charges, some one in the gallery shouted:

"He's a liar."

"No, that is not in my vocabulary," said the president. Later when he was referring to the Lorimer case, the same man evidently repeated his cry after a mention of Col. Roosevelt's name.

"He's a liar," he shouted.
"My experience on the bench has taught me the value of words," said Mr. Taft. "One of the most unsafe things to do is to go further than to show the facts. I appreciate the support of my distinguished and enthusiastic friend, but I must decline to adopt his vocabulary."

After declaring that he was sorry it was necessary for him to have to mingle in a political struggle, he suggested an amendment to the constitution so that a president should serve six or eight years and be ineligible for re-election.
"I think that would prevent this," he said. "No man has the right to misrepresent another to get himself in office no matter how humble that man is," the president shouted at one point in his Lowell address.

"Condemn me if you will," he said in conclusion, "but condemn me by other witnesses than Theodore Roosevelt."

"I was a man of straw, but I have been a man of straw long enough; every man who has blood in his veins and who has been misrepresented as I have been is forced to fight. I appeal to my friends in Massachusetts who I think believe in a square deal."

Expresses Regret.
At Brockton the president expressed regret that it was necessary for the president of the United States to enter into a political controversy, one that requires him to come upon the stump that he may defend himself against misrepresentation. He said he could stand misrepresentation himself, but in this crisis something else is involved—the progress of all the people in the pursuit of happiness under the restrictions of our present wonderful constitution. He praised the constitution, defended it against assault, and spoke of Abraham Lincoln's great admiration for the constitution. He denied that he distrusted the people, and declared "every fiber in my body is in instant with love of popular government."

The president then referred to his Toledo speech, in which he said that this was in a general sense a government of the people, but that, speaking exactly, it was a government of the people, for the people, by a representative part of the people. Mr. Taft said the context of that speech explained what he meant. "I said," continued the president, "that a government of the people belongs to us all—men, women and children, we are American citizens and we are all entitled to rights under the constitution, each man, woman and child, and therefore, it is a government for all the people, for the benefit of each one."

Explains Statement.
"But when you come to the expression, government by the people, that means a government of those who control the government and who are they? They are the voting part of the people. They are the adult males, and they are taken as a representative part of all the people."

The president said he made that statement for "the purpose of pointing out that it was necessary to protect the rights of the non-voting part who make three-fourths of all the people, because the voters don't constitute a quarter of the people, that it was necessary to have constitutional restrictions on that voting part to prevent them from making unjust aggressions on the non-voting part of the people."

"Now," Mr. Taft went on, "what does my opponent do? He takes this one sentence, that this is a government of the people, for the people by a representative part of the people and he says this:

"Didn't I tell you how I distrust the people? That means a government by a representative part; it means a government by the few; it

SERIOUS RIOT IN ZION CITY

MEN AND WOMEN BEATEN DURING A PRAYER MEETING.

Clash Between Outside Workmen
and Zionists Monday Evening—Fight Came as Climax of Week of Trouble.

Zion City, Ill., April 29.—Rioting which may result seriously, started here late this evening when employees of independent manufacturing concerns attacked a group of 200 Zion men and women at a prayer meeting. Both men and women were beaten with clubs, and a number were seriously injured.

Immediately after the fight at the prayer meeting, Wilbur Glenn Voliva ordered the large alarm bell rung and more than 1,000 men members of the church gathered at the auditorium to discuss plans for resisting further attacks by employees of independent companies who filled the streets tonight, threatening to "clean out" the city.

A second clash between the church people and the independents was predicted at the auditorium meeting, where Voliva urged his followers to protect their women and children from the "tobacco smoking curse," as he stigmatized the independents.

Elder E. M. Royal and Joseph Bishop were the most seriously injured at the prayer meeting fight. Both were beaten until they were nearly unconscious, and it is thought that Bishop's skull was fractured.

More than a third of the 150 women in attendance at the meeting were beaten, bruised or trampled on during the rush by the employees of the independents. Although Elder Royal and a number of his men resisted as well as they could, they were outnumbered and finally were swept from the large platform where the meeting was being held.

The fight came as the climax of a week of trouble between employees of the independent concerns which recently have begun operations here and the church people, formerly followers of John Alexander Dowle.

As a protest against the use of tobacco by the employees of the manufacturing companies, the Voliva people have been holding prayer meetings in front of one of the plants twice each day. Elder Royal had just called the second meeting today when several scores of men rushed over barriers which had been erected around the prayer platform and drove the Zionists from that part of town.

Meet Again Today.
At the close of the meeting tonight Overseer Voliva ordered his followers to re-assemble at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning to resume services in the front yard of a factory, whose employees offended by using tobacco.

"I would rather lose a hundred men than be defeated in this fight," said Voliva. "It is a battle to the finish, and I am determined to win."

Two Zionists, Isaac Hill and John Thorne, were arrested after tonight's rioting and later were released on bonds.

The declaration of Voliva that he would resume his meetings cause a new body of special deputies to be sworn in.

ARE DRINKING LESS

Chicagoans Climbing on "Water Wagon"—Many Saloons Ready to Quit Business.

Chicago, April 29.—Chicagoans are climbing on the "water wagon" in such large numbers that saloons have begun to notice their daily receipts dropping off. More than 500 saloons keepers, it was declared tonight, will not renew their licenses tomorrow the first day of the second quarter, and the chief reason is that men of all classes are drinking less.

Over one bar in the downtown district that will not re-open to morrow hangs this sign:
"Good-bye stein and farewell flagon;
"Chicago's lost her thirst,
"So I'll drive the water wagon."
"Starting May the first."

Other reasons given for quitting business were the enforcement of laws relating to gambling, resorts and dance halls. There are about 9,000 saloons in Chicago.

STRIKE CALLED.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 29.—A strike of employees of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company was called this evening. The men demand an arbitration committee to consider grievances, increased wages, and certain changes in working conditions.

The strike of motormen and conductors to night turned out to be practically much of a fizzle. While union officials say 300 out of 1,300 men deserted their cars, railway officials say that only 150 men struck. At 8 o'clock traffic conditions were said to be normal.

COLORADO FOR CLARK.

Speaker Secure Delegates From Centennial State.
Colorado Springs, Colo., April 29.—The Colorado state Democratic convention adopted a resolution instructing Colorado's delegation to the national Democratic convention to support Champ Clark until such time as he no longer was a candidate or until released by him. An effort to have Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey as second choice was defeated.

A BROAD ANTI- INJUNCTION BILL

FAVORABLY REPORTED BY COM-MITTEE TO HOUSE.

Measure Introduced Has Been Advocated
by Labor Unions—Minority
Will Report Denouncing It as Measure to Meet Political Exigencies of the day.

Washington, April 29.—A broad anti-injunction bill, the measure advocated by the labor unions, was favorably reported to the house to day by Chairman Clayton of the judiciary committee.

The bill provides that injunctions in labor disputes shall only be issued after the defendants have had an opportunity to make answer to the complaint against them. It also provides that courts shall issue restraining orders for but seven days, and these only where the complainant shows that he will be done irreparably injury if the order is not issued. Blanket injunctions are specifically provided against, and the right of workmen to picket is included.

Striking employees are given the right of meeting, extending financial assistance to their fellow strikers and of aiding them in every lawful way to win their victory. The right of boycott and the right to refuse to patronize is established in one section of the bill.

A minority report probably will be submitted by Republican members of the committee.

Seven Republican members of the house committee on judiciary have filed a minority report to the Clayton contempt bill reported last week, denouncing it as a measure calculated to meet political exigencies of the day and one that would destroy the function of the courts. The bill is described as unconstitutional. The minority of the committee offer a substitute for the relief asked by labor unions.

Managers of Taft and Roosevelt Confident of Victory in Massachusetts Today.

Boston, April 29.—With the departure of President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt from the state tonight, the campaign leaders gave their attention to figuring up the net results of the speaking tours. Both sides were confident that the final visits of the candidates meant more votes and neither side was willing to admit the possibility of anything but victory in the state-wide primaries tomorrow.

General Edgar R. Champlin, head of the Taft league, has repeatedly estimated that 31 of the 36 state delegates, at least, will go to Chicago prepared to vote for the renomination of President Taft and saw no reason tonight to alter prediction unless it might be to increase the number.

City Councilor Hale, the Roosevelt leader, said:

"The Massachusetts Roosevelt committee, to a man, is confident that Colonel Roosevelt will carry Massachusetts by a substantial plurality."

By most leaders it is admitted that there is some under-current of feeling in favor of LaFollette.

On the Democratic side there is much speculation as to the outcome of the Clark-Wilson contest. Those who are looking after the interests of the rivals are each confident of success.

TO PREVENT STRIKES.

Bill Introduced Giving Commerce Commission Power to Act.

Washington, April 29.—A means of regulating the wages of railway operatives and a possible method of preventing disastrous strikes by the employment of the interstate commerce commission is proposed in Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin in a bill presented to the house to day.

The Lenroot bill provides that before any general reduction of wages of any one class of employees of a common carrier shall become effective employees shall be given the right to protest. If within twenty days before the order becomes effective any railway men's organization or a majority of the employees protest at the principal offices of the company, the matter shall be referred to the interstate commerce commission for determination.

WATER INVESTIGATION.

Engineer Carl Hansen of State Water Survey Will Come Today.

Dr. Walter Treadway, secretary of the Morgan County Medical Society, received a letter Monday from Dr. Edward Hartow, head of the state water survey, stating that Carl Hansen, chief engineer, would be in this city to day, coming this morning over the Wabash from Springfield, to begin an investigation of the local water supply. Commissioner C. W. Brown also received a communication from Dr. Hartow, who desired to know what action the city council might take upon the matter at its meeting Monday. As the council did not meet nothing was done concerning any investigation. Mr. Hansen, it is understood, will bring with him a force of several men.

Miss Frances Frankenberg has returned from Griggsville, where she went to attend the Illinois Valley Meet and other social functions connected thereto. She was accompanied by her mother and while there they were delightfully entertained at the pleasant home of Edward Wade.

THE ROYAL ARCH

A RED LETTER DAY IN MASONRY.

Grand Gathering of State Officials and Companions From Various Parts of the State—Splendid Banquet in Armory Hall.

Monday, April 29, will long be remembered in the annals of Jacksonville Chapter No. 2, Royal Arch Masons, as it witnessed the assembly of a number of the officials of the Grand Chapter of the state, together with companions from a number of counties. Twelve candidates had the honor of receiving the degrees at the hands of illustrious officials and of sitting with them later at a banquet served in fine style in Armory hall by Foulk & Snell of the Pacific hotel. From start to finish all went well and the whole affair was a fine success, reflecting great credit on the members of the home chapter in general and those especially on committees in particular.

As is well known, Frank L. Best, now of Bloomington, is the high priest of Jacksonville chapter and in his absence his place has been most faithfully taken by the king, Joseph L. Whitaker. Mr. Best has been with the home organization all he could, but of course his business is now in the capital of McLean county, much to the regret of a host of friends in this community. For some time the home members have been laboring industriously to prepare for the event and all the committees deserve great praise for their efficient work.

Among the members of the Grand Chapter present was A. M. Hallowell who was warmly greeted by his brethren. He is now Right Excellent Grand King and according to an unwritten custom of the grand body he will stand at the head next year and be Grand High Priest.

The committees had for their general chairman Joseph L. Whitaker, while the chairman and members were as follows, the chairman being mentioned first:

On grand officers—J. S. Hackett, R. E. Buckner, R. T. Cassell, A. M. Hallowell and J. J. Reeve. Reception—J. Bart Johnson, W. S. Badger, J. J. Reeve, H. K. Snyder, E. L. Ransdell, C. W. Cornick, W. Jacksonville Chapter No. 3.

The members of Jacksonville Chapter No. 3 doing the work were:

Frank L. Best, High Priest.

Joseph L. Whitaker, King.

P. V. Coover, Scribe.

W. L. Shibe, Captain of the Host.

T. P. Carter, Principal Sojourner.

W. L. Ransdell, Royal Arch Captain.

W. R. Coulter, Master Third.

Norman Kuykendall, Master First.

J. I. Dunlap, secretary.

J. P. Kitzer, treasurer.

J. F. Self, sentinel.

The Work.

The temple was well filled during the afternoon and the work proceeded according to the ritual of the order. The apartments were appropriately and beautifully decorated and all was deeply impressive.

At 6 a buffet lunch was served by W. L. Snellman and when work was resumed until finished when all adjourned to the banquet.

The banquet

at Armory hall, where a grand scene was presented. The committee on decoration had certainly done its work well and the place presented a fine appearance. All present were loud in their praises of the work of the decorating committee and certainly the members of it had well done their duty. The tables looked fine and in the vicinity of three hundred persons sat down to the feast prepared. The menu was as follows:

Cream of tomatoes sweet, olives, radishes, baked white fish au gratin, potatoes saratoga, roast milk fed chicken, sage dressing, snowflake potatoes, asparagus tips on toast, combination salad, strawberry short cake with cream, brick ice cream, fancy cakes, cafe noir, cigars.

The divine blessing was invoked by Dr. G. W. Miller of Woodson.

During the banquet the companions were entertained with excellent music by Harold Johnson's orchestra.

Everything was well and promptly served and the banquet was greatly enjoyed by both hosts and guests. It took some time to satisfy all and when that had been accomplished they followed.

The speeches

of which only a brief outline is practicable.

Companion William S. Camp was introduced as toastmaster and took the chair with some very appropriate remarks. He spoke in terms of high praise of the illustrious gathering and told some interesting facts concerning Masonry in Illinois. He referred to the fact that within the past year there had been fifteen teams exalted in the chapter and much of the credit was due High Priest Frank D. Best.

The first speaker was Deputy G. H. Priest H. T. Burnap, whose theme was "Royal Arch Masonry as it Appears to Me."

The speaker deplored his lack of wealth, beauty and oratory but his remarks hardly bore out the latter. What connection exists between Royal Arch and Ancient Craft Masonry? Andrew M. Ramsey, a Scotchman, was the fabricator of Royal Arch Masonry in 1728. It was at first rejected in England and formed a hold in France and some years after made its way into England. The speaker went on to give much interesting information regarding the history of the august degree of the holy Royal Arch. Too many persons joined the order from mercenary motives and are no credit to which they belong. How different from these the man who serves according to his ability. We need good men and have them in our order.

C. D. Davis, grand high priest, was next. He praised Jacksonville Chapter on the fine occasion on the fine high priest and his assistants and told how much he enjoyed the hours here, paid a good compliment to the candidates and tendered his sincere thanks for the pleasure he had enjoyed.

E. A. Roe, thrice illustrious grand master of the grand council, came next. The speaker referred tenderly to his father, who was born in Jacksonville, and his grandfather, who was secretary of Jacksonville Chapter many years ago. He also gave some interesting facts of Masonic history. Most of the secret societies borrow much from Masonry. He was much impressed with Companion Frank Best, and the other members of the home chapter, who were fine men. He also expressed sincere thanks for the good time he had enjoyed.

A. M. Otman, grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Illinois, spoke next. To speak of Royal Arch Masonry from a Knight Templar standpoint was truly difficult. All the orders had exalted aims. The three steps in the blue lodge were emblematic of the three stages of human life. The truths of Masonry are learned still farther in the Royal Arch and still more in the Commandery, whence we can look forward to a glorious immortality. The whole system is much emblematic of human life. The Templar order is typical of the New Testament, without which the bible would not be complete. He also expressed his gratitude for the honor of his invitation to be present and the pleasure he had experienced.

A. M. Hallowell, grand king of the Grand Chapter was the last speaker. Jacksonville Masonry, he felt was best and Jacksonville No. 3 dearest to him.

The following from out of the city were present:

Joseph Temple, J. H. Dearborn, C. E. Freeman, J. S. G. Walker, R. Conkling, Mason City.

C. E. Heavers, W. S. Gille, J. B. Watson, Barry.

L. F. Berger, John G. Berger, W. E. Parsons, Meredosia.

George L. Kimber, Waverly.

C. C. Davis, Centralia.

E. R. Roe, Lafayette.

L. L. Emmerson, Mt. Vernon.

T. S. Capps, C. Pentinkin, H. R. Powell, Ralph Metcalf, Greenfield.

Q. A. Williams, Mt. Vernon.

H. A. Burnap, Franklin.

W. C. Sommers, W. B. Reid, H. H. Foulk, E. J. Howell, W. C. Bradish, Springfield.

Don't Envy the Well Dressed Woman --Be One--Use Pictorial Review Patterns

The words of commendation spoken to us by customers, old and new, since we took the agency for these justly celebrated patterns leads us to believe that their superiority over all others was pretty generally known even before we began to advertise their worth. We consider Pictorial Review Patterns the most important addition we have ever made to our stocks. When a woman begins using them, all other patterns cease to exist to her. Pictorial styles are absolutely unapproachable. Pictorial Patterns are the most complete in construction—a boon to the home dressmaker.

Here Are a Few Features Worth Remembering About Pictorial Review Patterns.

You can save double the cost of each pattern in time, labor and material. They are the only patterns having cutting and construction guides. Waste and spoiling of material is absolutely impossible; it is also impossible to mix up the parts. Dressmakers everywhere will tell you they are the most perfect patterns ever invented.

The largest department stores in New York, Chicago and St. Louis have discontinued all other patterns for the Pictorial Review Patterns. There can be but one conclusion drawn from the manner in which they have swept the country, and that is they are absolutely without equal

DELIGHTFUL PARTY.

One of the most delightful of the functions in honor of Miss Laura Luken, who is soon to be married to Rev. Herman Hallerberg of Nebraska, was the party given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Bennett of Orleans. The appointments in every way were most pleasing, the decorations being in pink and white. The guests were first given white linen napkins, which they were instructed to hem, and when the work was done the napkins were neatly tied with pink ribbons and presented by the hostess to Miss Luken, who expressed her appreciation and assured her friends that she would especially value the gifts as they would serve to recall many pleasant associations. Other pleasing features of the afternoon's entertainment were instrumental numbers by the Misses Luken and vocal solos by Mrs. Bennett and Miss Matilda Richardson.

Elegant refreshments were served, the same color scheme being followed out as in the decorations. The ice cream was in molds of hearts and the cakes served were of white with pink hearts at center. Favors were given, these being white heart shaped bon bon boxes tied with pink ribbon.

AT THE GRAND.

Colton & Barrow, the two comedians, were seen at the Grand last night. There were four good reels of pictures, all enjoyed by the large audience present.

TO REPEAT "TWELFTH NIGHT." There is a possibility that "Twelfth Night" will be repeated by the Illinois College Dramatic club on the evening of the May Day fete. The company is planning to go to Springfield under the auspices of the Ladies' club of that city.

CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. William McCullough Passes Away at the Family Residence Near Riggston Sunday.

Mrs. Emily Jane McCullough, wife of the late William McCullough, died Sunday afternoon at the family residence, one-half mile west of Riggston, having just passed her 75th birthday. Mrs. McCullough's illness has been of long duration and while at times she seemed to grow better, each month there was a general giving away of the vital organs. With wonderful fortitude she borne her illness, wishing to be with her children and friends. For the past weeks her condition had not been favorable and during the last few days her attending physician held out no hopes for her recovery. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Camp, one of the oldest and most prominent families of Scott county. She was born on the Camp homestead one mile west of Riggston, March 19, 1837, and has always made that neighborhood her home. Her years cover an important epoch in the growth of that section of the country and she has lived to see the forests transformed into blooming fields, substantial homes filling the community which was once a broad prairie and the many changes that always mark the advance of civilization.

Her marriage to William McCullough took place Oct. 16, 1862, and their splendid home near Riggston has ever been one of sincere hospitality. Mr. McCullough died a number of years ago and one of the sons, Elmer McCullough, now resides on the old homestead, where the mother passed away. Mrs. McCullough was one of the oldest members of the Riggston Methodist church and had ever taken an interest in its affairs. She was a woman of strong convictions for the right and ever manifested a spirit that meant for the betterment of the community. She was a great lover of home life and she was never so happy as when her children were gathered about her. Her ill health has prevented her for a long time from attending church or visiting with her friends. She will be missed in the family circle and her cordial greetings and kindly spirit will ever hold her in loving remembrance.

Mr. and Mrs. McCullough were the parents of nine children, two of whom died in infancy. Those surviving are William, Mrs. Robert Allen, Mrs. Benjamin Gibbs, Howard and Elmer McCullough, all residing in the Riggston community; A. C. McCullough of near Lynnville; Mrs. F. W. B. Everhart of Muscatine, Iowa; also a step-daughter, Mrs. Jane Allen of St. Louis, and nine grand children, two of whom, Miss Emily Jane Allen and Miss Irene McCullough, are students in the Woman's college.

Funeral services will be conducted from the family residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. E. S. Horton of Urbana, Ill., a former pastor of the Riggston M. E. church and a long time friend of the deceased. Interment will be made in the Gileham cemetery.

Bateman.

Mrs. Robert Bateman died at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning at her home, one mile west of Litterberry. She had been ill for some time and for days the end was hourly expected. Lula May Hall was born in Morgan county May 15, 1871, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, who were among the most highly respected citizens of Morgan county. She was married Feb. 18, 1890, to Robert Bateman and to this union were born two children, Lillian and Ivan, both of whom with the husband survive. She is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. William Norman, Miss Annie Hall and Mrs. M. J. Paul of Litterberry and Mrs. Abe Litter of Virginia, and two brothers, Cyrus Hanes of Greenfield and Philip Hanes of Alma, Neb.

Mrs. Bateman was a woman of beautiful Christian character and was a faithful member of the Litterberry Christian church, being active in the work of all departments and showing an interest in all that pertained to the betterment of the community in which she lived. There are many who will regret to learn of her death.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Christian church at Litterberry, in charge of Rev. C. G. Cantrell. Interment will be in Arcadia cemetery.

Ray. Roy Ray died at 5 o'clock Monday morning at his home in Virginia from typhoid fever. His wife and four children are also sick with the disease and Mrs. Ray and a daughter are not expected to live. He was 38 years of age and was an electrician by trade. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. T. A. Ray, his wife and five children, Bruce, Clara, Marguerite, Cecil and Vernon; also by three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Litter of Litterberry, Mrs. Al Chapman and Miss Gertrude Ray of Virginia, and two brothers, John of Virginia and Edgar of Bradford. MANY MEN IN SUNDAY-SCHOOL

Adult Classes at Roodhouse and White Hall Engage in Spirited Contest.

As the result of a contest, which is being conducted by the men's Bible classes of the Baptist Sunday school at Roodhouse and the Presbyterian Sunday school at White Hall, more than 450 men were in Sunday school in these cities last Sunday. Roodhouse reported an attendance of 293 and White Hall 175. Nothing in a great while has created more interest or has been the subject of as much conversation with the people of the two churches.

The idea of a contest originated at a banquet held recently in Roodhouse, when the pastor of the White Hall church, Rev. John Rugh, it is said, inferred in his remarks that it would be impossible to get the men of Roodhouse to attend Sunday school. Rev. Mr. Harms, pastor of the Roodhouse Baptist church, heard the address and, it seems that he at once began to confer with the brethren of his church which resulted in the issuing of a challenge to the men's class at White Hall. The fight has been on for several Sundays and up to date Roodhouse claims to be 347 in the lead.

Every inducement possible has been used in both places to influence the men to attend Sunday school. It is said that in White Hall one of the prominent business men, who employs a large force of men, has offered to pay extra wages to those of his force who will appear in Sunday school during the contest. Last Sunday in Roodhouse, W. L. Horning, manager of the Illinois Telephone company, who is one of the most active workers in the contest, took to Sunday school, with him, the members of a construction gang who were working on the lines in that vicinity, and a force of 25 or 30 men from the city ice house appeared in their slickers. The main auditorium of the church has been given over to the men and the others of the school have withdrawn to the room, which formerly was occupied by the primary department. The Roodhouse men boast that they will have 400 in Sunday school next Sunday. There are five more Sundays before the contest closes.

While at the hospital he made the acquaintance of Dr. McCarty and a warm friendship sprang up between the two. He is a young man of excellent qualities. The bride belongs to one of the best known families of Atwater.

OBITUARY. FORTY-EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY

Delightful Celebration of Literary Union at Home of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Pitner.

The 48th anniversary of the Literary Union was celebrated Monday evening at Fairview, the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Pitner. This is the only meeting of the year to which ladies are invited and in addition to the wives of the members of the Union, the members of the club and ladies were present as guests of the Union. These in addition to other invited guests of the host and hostess increased the number to nearly one hundred.

The program consisted of an address by the retiring president, Judge Owen P. Thompson, delivered with his usual eloquence, followed by a rather facetious and humorous address by the incoming president, Dr. A. B. Morey. The secretary's report was given by Dr. David W. Reid, in which he spoke of the past history of the Union and its valuable historical records, largely due to the care and exactness of its former secretary, Dr. H. W. Milligan. These three talks were interspersed with three violin solos by Prof. Max L. Swarthout, the youngest member of the Union, with Mr. Donald M. Swarthout as accompanist. The selections were excellently executed by Mr. Swarthout and highly appreciated by the audience. They were: "Valse Capriccio," by Wieniawski; "Serenata," by Moszkowski, and "Polish Dance," by Earl R. Drake.

After the program a very delightful social time was enjoyed when delicious refreshments were served, and before adjournment souvenirs of the meeting, in the shape of copies of the new constitution and by-laws of the Union, were distributed. These are the first printed revisions of the constitution and by-laws in thirty-five years and aside from containing the constitution and by-laws they have also a list of the charter members and a list of all of the members of the Union since its organization, together with a list of the secretaries.

The Jacksonville Literary Union was organized in 1864 with the following charter members: L. M. Glover, William Brown, William Brown, Jr., R. W. Allen, E. W. Brown, William Dod, Charles Fisher, P. G. Gillett, H. K. Jones, John Loomis, D. F. Mitchell, T. N. Morrison, J. H. Wood and J. H. Woods. During its forty-eight years of existence the Union has done much good among its members and has fully accomplished its object in promoting useful knowledge among its members and providing for the free and impartial discussion of literary, scientific and civic questions.

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from any cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc., show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acid fluid, which forces out its impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S.S.S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores lost vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S.S.S. neutralizes any excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Aone, Tetters, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruption or disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

BIRTHDAY GATHERING

Pleasant Event at the Home of J. W.
Bowen on Occasion of His Natal
Day.

Sunday was the 62nd birthday of J. W. Bowen and while it was not the desire of the family to make a great event of the occasion they did not desire it to go unnoticed so as many of the children and families as practicable were invited together
with the writer to enjoy a pleasant
family reunion, at least in part.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen are the parents of twelve children, nine of whom have arrived at maturity. Three were taken away in early childhood
but the others have lived to do honor
to their parents and be useful members of society. The oldest of them is Mrs. Lillian Scott, residing a few miles east of the city and so highly esteemed in the neighborhood in which she lives.

Another is Mrs. Clarence Massey
of this city and Miss Essie is at home.
Mrs. Scott, husband and son, Mr.
and Mrs. Massey were present, and a cousin, John Wicha of Pittsfield.
Others of the family are scattered far and near, Oregon, Texas, Peoria
and other localities claiming them,
but the son, John in Peoria, sent his congratulations.

Though unable to gather all their children under the parental roof to enjoy the occasion, it yet was indeed a very happy affair. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bowen and Miss Essie also, are excellent entertainers and the hours
after church passed most delightfully.

Of course the dinner was a prominent feature of the day and there
Mrs. Bowen and her daughter showed their rare skill in ministering to the wants of the inner man for the meal was delicious, well prepared and served most admirably.

Mr. Bowen received a number of presents from his dutiful children
and friends and was made aware of the fact that he is esteemed both by them and many others also and all who enjoyed the occasion will be glad to be present next time it is celebrated.

THE OLDEST SWITCHMAN ON THE DIVISION.

This is W. C. Beck, 2248 Spruce St., Quincy, Ill., who has been for exposure gave me kidney trouble,

with a steady, dull pain in my back
that would turn into lumbago, and
my kidney action was irregular.
Since taking four bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I am free from all these troubles and gladly recommend them." City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

HEAVY STORM.

Saturday night Morgan county and adjacent territory were visited by a dreadful storm which did great damage. Fields were flooded and streams sent way out of their banks, while unfavorable reports come from river
territory. The Widenham-Daub
pumping plant is again under water
and many fields into which owners hoped to go to day, with plow or stalk cutter are inaccessible. The heaviest rain here was toward morning Sunday. Mr. Frankel of the Illinois Stock Exchange spent Sunday in Peoria and says he was caught out in the rain and soaked through to the skin. The fields all along were well high covered with water.

There is one ray of comfort. The rain is giving the meadows and pastures a good start.

QUICK RELIEF

FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koons, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife
wonderful benefit for rheumatism.
She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday
she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast. Sold by

ANTI-SALOON MEN IN THE CITY.

Sunday the anti-saloon representatives occupied a number of the city
pulpits morning and evening. E. A.

presented the cause. They were well received and though the day was disagreeable a good sum was contributed for the cause.

AMUSEMENT BAY.

May be Lifted From Methodist Discipline.

Chicago, April 29.—There is a possibility that the ban against dancing, card playing and theater-going
may be lifted from the Methodist discipline at the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held in Minneapolis. The Chicago Methodists' association today, after a sharp discussion, adopted a memorial to the conference leaving under the ban only the use or the promotion of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

MAY ALLOW FIGHT.

Springfield, Mo., April 29.—Deputies Governor Hadley's order that the local officials must not allow the scheduled boxing contest between Carl Morris and Luther McCarthy to take place here next Friday night,
J. H. Mason, the county prosecutor,
to day said he would not interfere
if the bout was held in compliance with the state laws regulating prize fighting. Mason, who is a member of the club, under whose auspices
the fight is to be given, said the governor would have to call out the militia to stop the fight. The sheriff said he would not act without orders from the prosecutor.

NEW AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE.

Paris, April 29.—Myron T. Herrick, the new American ambassador to France, to day presented his letters of credence to President Pailleres. After the usual formal speeches Mr. Herrick and the president engaged in cordial conversation.

THRONG OF BUYERS CONTINUES

Special Price Brings Many Patrons to Coover & Shreve.

The people of Jacksonville and vicinity appreciate the great advantage
Coover & Shreve obtained for them,
in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow the regular 50 cent size of Dr.
Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at 25 cents and have bought hundreds of bottles.

Unlike ordinary medicines for constipation and dyspepsia, the dose of Dr. Howard's specific is reduced after a few days' use, and the cure is soon complete and lasting.

If you have not already taken advantage of this chance to get a month's medical treatment for 25 cents, be sure to call at Coover & Shreve to day, for they have only a small amount of the specific on hand.

HIGH PRICE FOR BEEF

Advanced to Highest Point in New York Since 1881—A Further Rise Anticipated.

New York, April 29.—The wholesale price of beef advanced here today one cent a pound, highest since 1881. A carcass of a native corn-fed beef was quoted at Wallabout market in Brooklyn at a top figure of 13 cents, which old timers agreed was the highest price in over 30 years. Retailers were charging 25 to 26 cents a pound for porterhouse
and 24 cents for sirloin steak, 20
to 22 cents for rib-robe, 30 to 32
cents for loin lamb chops, 18 cents
for mutton shoulder chops, 26 to 28
cents for mutton loin chops and even soup meat sold at 15 cents a pound.
The wholesalers' explanation of the cause of high prices is the scarcity of the cattle, the cost of feed, especially corn, and the fact that it is a between-season period. It is also declared that 10 per cent of the stock of the west was killed by the incessant cold of the last winter. Whole-salers anticipate a further advance
and retailers declare themselves
much alarmed over the situation.

OTHERS TO SEND VESSELS.

Washington, April 29.—The United States will not be the only government to send a vessel to Mexican waters. Information received at the state department is to the effect that a British warship will be ordered to Mexico. A rumor has reached the department that a French cruiser will also put in an appearance at one of the gulf ports of Mexico very soon.

LINCOLN SERVANT DEAD.

Galesburg, Ill., April 29.—Allison Dimery, a colored servant of Abraham Lincoln, at Springfield, when Lincoln was elected president, died
here to day of pneumonia. Dimery declined Lincoln's offer to accompany him to Washington, as he had a sweetheart in Springfield whom he did not wish to leave. Dimery later served in the war and was a member of the local G. A. R.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

Washington, April 29.—The condition of Thomas C. Dawson, resident diplomatic officer in the state department, has become so critical that his relatives have been summoned from Iowa and elsewhere.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest
food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies
and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good,"
it is probably better FOR HIM...it pays better.
But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Jerry Eddinger, who umpired last season in the American association, will officiate at Dubuque. Steve Cusack at Decatur, William Brannon at Springfield and "Pat" Wright at Davenport.

H. K. Olmsted, 10 Chestnut St., Galesburg, Ill., says: "I suffered with pains over my hips and in my back, which in cold weather were almost unbearable. My bladder was inflamed and made me very uncomfortable. Soon after I started to take Foley Kidney Pills I began to improve, until now I am again in perfect health and free from pain." MORQUE SHIP COMES TODAY.
Arrival of Mackay-Bennett Expected This Morning.
Halifax, N. S., April 29.—The cableship Mackay-Bennett, for whose arrival Halifax has been waiting feverishly since Saturday, will probably steam into the harbor some time before 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with about 200 dead from the Titanic disaster. The bereaved and their representatives had expected the vessel today, but a message from Captain Lardner said he would not arrive until about 9 a. m. Tuesday.

SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL.
Chicago, April 29.—Miss Maza O. Osborne, arrested after she had shot Dr. W. D. Fisher, was released by Captain Denner of the Sheffield Avenue police station today, after the police had received a statement from Dr. Fisher declaring that the shooting was accidental. It was said Dr. Fisher would recover.

KNOX STARTS ON TRIP.
Washington, April 29.—Secretary Knox left Washington at 10:45 o'clock last night for New Orleans, to be gone about fifteen days on a tour that will make him as far as the Pacific coast and will be marked by several addresses, at least one of which will be a campaign speech, probably at San Francisco.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.
Health Is Worth Saving and Some Jacksonville People Know How to Save It.
Many Jacksonville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has cured thousands of kidney sufferers.
The following statement leaves no ground for doubt:
Mrs. Charles Corwin, Maple street, Winchester, Ind., says: "I was annoyed for weeks by pain in the small of my back, so severe at times that I could hardly get around to do my housework. In the morning I awoke feeling very lame and hardly able to walk, and to stoop or lift was out of the question. My husband advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I accordingly procured a box. They did me a great deal of good, and in a few days after I began their use, the backache as well as the other troubles had disappeared."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A WASHINGTON STORY.
General Gassaway Saw the Great Man in a Comic Situation.
A correspondent favors us with this unpublished anecdote about George Washington, obtained from a manuscript autobiography:
"In the spring of 1814 I fell in company with General Louis Gassaway at Annapolis, Md., then clerk of the district court, by whom I was informed that in the Revolutionary war he was an old-d-d camp to Washington. I will let General Gassaway relate the anecdote himself:
"In the winter of 1770 and 1780, called the 'hard winter,' the American army went into winter quarters at Morristown, N. J. General Washington and his staff had their headquarters at the farmhouse of one Gabriel Ford, a large and convenient establishment. One severely cold night, about 2 o'clock, there was an unusual bustle at headquarters. I lodged below on the first floor and soon learned the cause of the stir. General Washington ran to the head of the stairs in his night dress with a pistol in each hand and called to me to know the cause of the uproar.
"A soldier on guard, sir, has been frozen at his post and brought into quarters."
"See that the poor fellow is well cared for and change the guard every hour," was the humane reply.
"To see a man six feet high in his night clothes with a pistol in each hand for a slight alarm of the night guard bordered so near on the ludicrous that I could not easily keep my equanimity to answer the great general of the American army with becoming respect."—Army and Navy Journal.

TONING UP THE BODY.
It Will Help to Fortify Your System Against Serious Illness.
There is a saying, much wiser and cheaper than it seems at first glance, to the effect that "you won't get sick if you keep well." It is a half joking way of setting forth a profound truth. The risks and exposures of life are so many and so insidious that they cannot be escaped. The only hope of passing through them unharmed is to keep the body so strong and sound that it can defend itself against the diseases which are constantly lying in wait for the unguarded and the weak.
It is a mere commonplace to say that one man will take exactly the same course and face precisely the same risks that another man does, fatal and go entirely unscathed. Sometimes it is a difference born in the two organisms, but often it is the result of different living and different conditions in respect to strength and health.
If the body is maintained at a high state of efficiency and if care is taken to overcome and correct the little disorders and signs of trouble as soon as they appear there is not much danger of a serious illness. The small precautions and the constant toning up of the body by exercise, fresh air, sensible eating and drinking and abstention from all excesses and follies ward off prolonged and often desperate struggles against disease.
It is the principle of the old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine." The same rule applies to the care of health.—Cleveland Leader.

The House of Lords.
The house of lords was composed chiefly of clerics until the time of Edward III. Thus in 1295 the peers were ninety spiritual and forty-nine lay members, including twenty archbishops and bishops, sixty-seven abbots and priors and three masters of orders. Many clerical dignitaries summoned did not attend at Westminster, refusing to recognize the authority of parliament over their own conventions of Canterbury and York. It was partly from this cause that the lords spiritual decreased in number until early in the reign of Edward III, the upper house consisted of eighty-six lay and only forty-five clerical peers, while during Elizabeth's parliament there were forty-three and twenty-six respectively.—London Standard.

Depending on the Neighbors.
She was a rather plump old woman and had always tried to be accommodating to her neighbors, but even her obliging spirit had to refuse a request from a neighbor who sent by her little boy the following message:
"Please, ma'am, mother sent me over to see if I couldn't get a couple of pounds of lard off of you."—Lippincott's.

KOREANS ARE GLUTTONS.

Always Ready to Eat and Always Gorge Themselves When They Can.
The Koreans appear to be the greatest eaters in the world. To this the Japanese, French, English, Dutch and Chinese all bear witness. All reports concerning the Korean capacity for food seem to agree. In this respect there is not the least difference between the rich and the poor, the noble and the plebeian. To eat much is an honor in Korea, and the merit of a feast, it would seem, consists not so much in the quality as in the quantity of the food served. Little conversation occurs during the Korean meal, for each sentence might lose a mouthful. A Korean is always ready to eat. He attacks whatever he meets with and rarely cries "Enough." Even between meals he will help himself to anything edible that is offered.

The ordinary portion of a laborer is about a quart of rice, which when cooked makes a good bulk. This, however, is no serious hindrance to his devouring double or treble the quantity when he can get it. Eating matches are common. When an ox is slaughtered and the beef is served up a heaping bowl of the steaming mess does not alarm any guest. When fruits, such as peaches or small melons, are served it is said that they are devoured without peeling. Twenty or thirty peaches are deemed an ordinary allowance per person and rapidly disappear. Such prodigality in food is, however, not common, and for one feast there are many fastings. The Koreans are neither fastidious in their eating nor painstaking in their cooking. Nothing goes to waste. All is gizzard that comes to the mill in their mouths.—New York Press.

A FUNNY SULTAN.
He Liked to Play Practical Jokes Upon His Invited Guests.
We all like our little joke, and eastern potentates have from time immemorial enjoyed the reputation of being the merriest of monarchs. The Moorish palace of Sultan Abu Yakub Yussuf at Seville—known today as the Alcazar—contains one of the most elaborate practical jokes extant. When in a gay mood some important merchant or notable of Seville would receive a pressing invitation summoning him to the presence. In a fever of delighted expectancy the flattered guest would don his whitest raiment and bid him to the palace.

There he would be ceremoniously conducted to the gardens and directed up the long avenue. But, alas, halfway up it he would inevitably tread upon a moving trap set resting upon a spring, and immediately countless fine jets of water would gush out of the ground and from the surrounding shrubbery and drench him. Amid the jeers of the courtiers the luckless and bedraggled wight would beat an undignified retreat. Before he was allowed to leave the palace, however, he was sworn to secrecy on pain of death. At all costs nothing must make the joke fall flat when repeated.

The treacherous dagstone has been removed, and today the visitor may pass with impunity, but a peseta to the head gardener will usually cause the fountains to play. Not many people know of their existence, however. The water is sprayed through hundreds of tiny pipes, so small as to be almost invisible, which are placed in the cracks between the flagstones.—Strand Magazine.

By and Large.
A correspondent asks, "Where did the fool expression 'by and large' come from, and what does it mean?" It is scarcely foolish, for the men who invented the phrase were the great sailors of the past, and by and large they opened a new world for folk to whom the speech of adventure is a closed volume. To sail "by" is to sail as close to the point from which the wind comes as the ship's lines will allow and as skillful steering will permit. To sail "large" is to sail with the wind. Together they include all possible points of sailing. Therefore "by and large" is a vivid phrase to express the idea of all included.—New York Sun.

The Proud Duke.
An English importer in New York told a story illustrative of the pride of the late Duke of Fife.
"A very rich woman in Grosvenor square," he said, "once asked the duke to dinner in terms like these:
"Mrs. Parvenu's social secretary is desired to invite the Duke of Fife, to dinner on the 7th inst. at 8 o'clock."
"To this invitation came back the answer:
"The Duke of Fife's piper is desired to inform Mrs. Parvenu's social secretary that the Duke of Fife declines her invitation."—Washington Star.

CORN IS KING

AND MORGAN COUNTY IS HIS CAPITOL.
He is at home here. His subtle acts understand him and like him. He gives them every year full and satisfactory returns for all they do for him. Morgan county land costs no money, but it is worth it. Land elsewhere can be bought cheaper, but it is worth less, and you never know when it is going to fail you. Morgan county crops never fail.

For sixteen years we have talked this and nothing but this: Stay with the dirt you know. Keep your farm; or, if it is too small for you, buy a larger one that you know all about. We can sell you the farm, and we can get you all the money you need to pay for it—home money—Morgan county money—money that has been made, grown if you please, in Morgan county dirt, and that is not afraid to go back into it.

We have confidence in Morgan county land, and the money-owners of Morgan county have confidence in us, and for sixteen years the combination has been working well. We have always had the money to lend, and our money clients have never lost a dollar nor had to foreclose a mortgage of a farm.

PUPILS' RECITAL

Students of Mrs. Hartmann of the Illinois Woman's College of Music Heard in Fine Program

One of the most pleasing students' recitals at the Woman's college this year was that given in Music hall last night by pupils of Mrs. Hartmann who is head of the voice department of the College of Music. The splendid instruction they have been receiving was manifested in the work of the young ladies. They were in good voice and sang with musical understanding and interpretation that would do credit to graduate students. Most of the singers have been heard in recital work before, but their efforts last evening were unusually meritorious. The author of the Trio, Mr. A. Foote, is a personal friend of Mrs. Hartmann and his composition is certainly commendatory.

The program followed:
He is Kind, He is Good (from "Herodias")..... Massenet
Alma Wilday.

RECITALS AT I. W. C.

The piano pupils of Miss Lala Hay will give a recital Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in Music hall.
Miss Mary Ebert, a first year student of the School of Expression, will be heard in a recital Friday afternoon at 4:15. She will give "Sohrah and Rhusum" from Matthew Arnold. The public is invited to attend these recitals.

GAVE SPLENDID ADDRESSES.

Dr. W. D. Stackhouse of Canada, general secretary of the Baptist Layman Missionary movement, occupied the pulpit at the Sunday morning service at the First Baptist church and gave a very strong address on "The Baptist Layman Missionary Movement." Dr. Stackhouse gave a vision of the work to be done in the movement and emphasized the relation of consecration and missions. He spoke from a rich experience in the work as district missionary in the mountains of British Columbia. At the evening service E. A. Scroggin, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, gave an address in the interests of the league. He gave a review of the work that has been accomplished in the last few years and outlined a bright prospect for the future.

MVAY BROTHERS' TRIAL.

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 29.—The case of Ed and Cullen McVay, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of J. W. Etheridge, was called in the Jefferson county circuit court today for trial. The case has attracted wide attention. Etheridge was shot down in court while he was being tried for the assassination two years ago of Albert McVay. John, Ed and Cullen McVay, brothers of Albert McVay, were arrested after the shooting of Etheridge and charged with murder in the first degree, as was Perry Walker, who is said to have been with the McVays shortly before the shooting. Walker was released. John McVay was tried last February and convicted and sentenced to death. An appeal has served to stay the sentence.

BETWEEN WILSON AND UNDERWOOD.

Atlanta, Ga., April 29.—Georgia's preference for the Democratic presidential nomination will be expressed by the voters Wednesday at a state wide primary to be held for that purpose. Later in the month the state convention will meet here to ratify the choice. The contest is between Woodrow Wilson and Oscar W. Underwood, with the odds apparently favoring the New Jersey governor. Factional lines have been drawn into the contest. Wilson is generally supported by friends of Senator Hoke Smith, while Underwood is favored by the anti-Smith faction, of which Governor Joseph M. Brown and Clark Howell are the leaders.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services of Mrs. Oren Reardon will take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Catholic church in Winchester.

COOLED THEIR WRATH.

Bailey's Way When He Caught a Tarrar on the Telephone.

When the telephone bell rang the senior partner said to the junior partner:

"If that is that man Bailey just you tell him what you think of him, even if you lay yourself liable to a fine for violent language."

The junior partner relieved himself of a few abusive epithets, but presently after a brief pause he expressed the same sentiments couched in much milder terms. Said the junior partner:

"There you go crawling again. Why can't you stick to what you said to the first place?"

The junior partner dropped the receiver.

"Supposing you come and say it yourself," he said.

The senior partner did so, but after a little he, too, repeated his language with all the backbone left out.

"It's no use," he said. "You can't curse a man twice over the phone who answers your first outburst with 'I beg your pardon. I didn't quite catch that. Say it again, please.' That is Bailey's way. You try to say it again, but the second time it sounds pretty rank even in your own ears, and your temper of rage moderates into a tranquil breeze." —New York Times.

UNKNOWN COUNTRIES.

Mongolia and Tibet Mostly a Riddle to the Outside World.

Nether the Chinese themselves nor the rest of the world knows much of Mongolia or Tibet. The most of those two countries belong to the desert, and although they have been inhabited since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, the outside world is to them a sealed book, and they to the world an unguessed riddle.

The great desert of Gobi, that is partly in China, partly in Manchuria, partly in Mongolia and partly in Siberia, is traversed by the oldest transportation lines in existence. It has a caravan route over which tea and silk laden camels have traveled toward Europe for these 3,000 years, and yet from the time when Kublai Khan monumentalized the road until the time when the Russian railroad paralyzed it by the competition of steam no one of the merchants who traveled over it turned either to the right or to the left to tell Europe and the accident of the wonders or the terrors of that unknown land.—Argonaut.

A Lost Language.

A monument to a lost language is to be found in the village of St. Paul, near Penzance, in Cornwall, and it is believed to be the only monument in existence which marks the death of a vanished tongue. It commemorates the death of the last woman who spoke in the Cornish language and was erected by a Frenchman. It is a granite obelisk about seven feet high and is built into the churchyard wall, the front facing the highway, where it is plainly discernible by all who pass that way. The upper part is in the form of a Maltese cross. The inscription reads as follows: "Here both interred Dorothy Pentreth, who died in 1777, said to have been the last person who conversed in the ancient Cornish, the peculiar language of this county from the earliest records till it expired in the eighteenth century in this parish of St. Paul."

The Memory.

Unquestionably the memory of the race is deteriorating. Plato knew perfectly well what he was about when he declared that the invention of letters was the deathblow of memory. In the old time men depended upon their memories for all the affairs of life. The songs of the bards, the laws, all business transactions, everything that took place was lost unless men remembered it. And they remembered it. They had to remember it. The difference between the memories that carried the total content of human knowledge and the memories of today is tremendous. There is no particular reason for remembering things today. They are all on record, and the memory of the race is accordingly dying out.—New York American.

Fad From the Sword.

The true shamrock is one of the thickest of the clover family and has small yellow bloom—that "sprig of shamrock, wearing of the green."

When an Irish mother brings forth a male child she puts his first food on the sword of her husband and lightly tatters the first asparagus of nourishment into his little mouth with the point of the sword.—Solinus, 1,700 Years Ago.

No wonder the Irish are natural born soldiers.—New York Press.

Precocious.

Small boys have a way of listening to remarks that older persons make and using them when least expected. A mother was surprised the other day to have her young son reply to her when she was reproving him for some trifling misconduct: "Well, mamma, you must put up with me. You know I'm just at the trying age."

No, He Wasn't.

He—And did you call at Monte Carlo while you were at Nice? She—No. Papa called on him, I believe, but from his disappointed appearance who, he returned to the hotel I think Mr. Carlo must have been out.—London Telegraph.

In Rivalry with Human Hair Where Dandruff Is Eradicated.

Seakins is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. A PUZZLE IN METALS.

Brass Has an Odor Yet Copper and Zinc Separately Have Not.

Brass, as every one knows, has an awful odor, yet the two things of which brass consists, zinc and copper,
give no odor whatever in their separate states. This is a problem that has given a great deal of work to scientists. It is one as yet not entirely solved.

To arrive at the general law it has been found that almost all alloys, or mixtures of two metals, will give an odor, while the metals themselves do not. Brass is not the single example, though probably the most odiferous.
The explanation is as follows: All substances, including metals, are always giving off small particles of their substance to the air—that is, evaporat-
ing. Some solids give these off so rapidly as soon to disappear. Gum camphor is a conspicuous example. To smell any substance a particle of that substance has to tickle a nerve ending in the nose. If a small particle of copper, or zinc and a particle of copper strike
at the same time the effect is such as to cause a perceptible impulse to the nerve. The chance for these two to strike at the same time is given only when they are intimately mixed in an alloy.—New York Tribune.

FAMOUS EPIDEMICS.

In Europe In 1348 the Black Death
Claimed 25,000,000 Victims.

In the twelfth century not less than fifteen epidemics of disease and many famines carried off the people of England. The thirteenth century saw twenty plagues and nineteen famines,
while the fourteenth had a black record of disease. In 1348 the "black plague" or "black death," which was brought into the country from the east,
caused the death of 100,000 persons in London alone, while in Europe altogether 25,000,000 people fell victims to its ravages.

In 1485 the "sweating sickness" appeared in England, causing great destruction of human life. It reappeared
at various intervals for a century
thereafter. The last terrible visitation of the plague in England was in 1604-06; by which 100,000 lives were lost in London alone.

This epidemic was followed by the great fire of 1666, which destroyed 10-600 houses, including all the most densely populated portions of the city.
The rebuilding of London with some regard to sanitary laws appears to have put the first check on the epidemic diseases that had previously devastated the population.—London Standard.

Whistles and His Door Opens.

There is in London a man who surely must combine the two characteristics of laziness and invention to a remarkable degree. It is his custom to have his breakfast in bed, and, burdened with the trouble of getting out of bed for the purpose of unlocking his bedroom door, he has invented a door
which opens to his whistle. He has accomplished this somewhat remarkable feat by means of a simple electromag-
net which draws the bolt when a current passes through it, a platinum point
and a piano wire attuned to a certain note. When this note or one of its octaves is sounded the wire vibrates in response, and this vibration brings it
in contact with the platinum point.
The circuit is thus completed, and a sensitive relay is brought into operation.—Chicago Tribune.

Russian Place Names.

The Russian has not applied his names without reason. In 1858, when he founded the capital of the Amoor province, he named it Blagovesh-chensk. This means "good news"—to all save the proofreaders in newspaper offices. Three years later he founded the capital of Primorskaya and gave it a name that plainly showed what it was intended to be—Vladivostok,
"ruler of the east." Near the end of his great transcontinental railway he made a brand new city and called it Daiing, "farthest," a very appropriate name for a place 6,800 miles from the starting point of the road.

His Profession.

"Now, Robert, what do you intend to do when you become a man?" questioned Aunt Ellen as she looked approvingly upon her small nephew.
"I'm going to be a soldier," replied
the boy promptly, "because then I can fight whenever I want to without being spanked for it."—Youth's Companion.

Its Suggestion.

"When I asked our new girl if she could do anything in the line of putting up vegetables she replied, 'I can can.'"
"My dear, that sounds as if she was a French chorus girl."—Baltimore American.

TUNNELS UNDER RIVERS.

They Are Built on a Plan Taught to Man by a Worm.

There are now many great rivers with tunnels under them. Even when one is sunk to such a depth and carried so far along as the one under the Hudson at Storm King for the aqueduct it excites only a moment's wonder.

Such tunnels are generally driven under the water on the same plan, and that plan was taught to man by a worm.
The first attempt to make a tunnel under a river of any size was the Thames tunnel in London, which was built by the famous engineer Brun-nel. He had so much trouble with the water that oozed through that he came near giving up the job as impossible,
when he happened to see a piece of rotten wood into which a worm had bored under water.

As the worm ate its way into the wood it left a deposit like lime all around the hole, and this got quite hard
and waterproof, so that the worm could always get out the way it came, and
the hole remained true and firm.

Brunel did the same thing. He made large steel tubes and pushed them into the earth, and then he forced cement
in between the tube and the wet ground about it, so that it set as hard as a rock. All tunnels under water are built on the same plan now.—New York

TEMPLE OF BAALBEK.

This Syrian Shrine Has the Largest
Quarried Stones in the World.

Probably the largest stones ever used
in any building are seen in the western wall of the great temple of Baal-bek in Syria, and the problem is still unsolved as to the methods used in conveying them from the quarries and
of placing them in position.

The quarries from which these blocks
were undoubtedly cut can be seen about half a mile to the southwest of the temple. The three stones be horizontally and form part of the outer wall of the building. They are not on the lowest part of the masonry, but are twenty-three feet above the first row of stones. Each stone is over six feet long, thirteen feet high and ten feet thick.

The most wonderful block of all still lies in the quarries, for something must have occurred to stop the work of separating it completely from the rock, and the great stone has lain
there for centuries awaiting completion.
This stone is seventy feet long,
fourteen feet high and thirteen feet wide. The three sides and part of the fourth have been beautifully chiseled
and are smooth and even.—San Francisco Argonaut.

"Lobby" Wanted a Place.

It is hard to think of Henry Labou-chere in any other occupation than that of blithering heads and making faces, in a good cause, to be sure, but still with much gusto and impish glee.
But we are assured by G. W. E. Bus sell in the Cornhill Magazine that Labouchere for a time cherished that most bourgeois of ambitions, a place in the cabinet or in the high diplomatic service. When Gladstone organized his last cabinet, in 1892, Labouchere confidently expected that his cabinet
services to the party during six years of Tory ascendancy would be rewarded, but before Gladstone submitted his list of ministers to the queen he had received a direct intimation that the name of the editor of Truth must not appear there. On this point her majesty was reported to be "very stiff." Later Labouchere was an active candidate for the ambassadorship
at Washington.

Old Time Delicacies.

Swans are coming back into favor as a dish for the table. This reversion to the tastes of our forefathers may lead to a demand for other delicacies once held in high esteem. In the thirteenth century the heron, the crane, the crow,
the cormorant and the bittern were considered excellent food. But for some undiscovered reason the hare and the partridge were despised, and in the houses and of the nobles neither was ever seen. Another dish favored by our ancestors was dilegrount. This must have been a special delicacy, for the lord of the manor of Addington held his tenure on the condition of his presenting the king every year with a dish "called dilegrount, and it fat be-added then it is called malpigerium."

FIRE IN THE HOLD.

Vessels at Sea Are Often Smoldering
Furnaces Below Decks.

Smoldering fires on board ship are common enough and in many cases are comparatively harmless. They arise mostly from spontaneous combustion caused by piling large quantities of coal in close quarters.

It is said on excellent authority that there is not much danger from such a fire, hardly any on an iron or a steel ship. The first protective measure in such an event is to exclude the air, so that the fire can only smolder. Then the bunker is flooded with water, which usually serves to extinguish it.

Even in wooden ships the danger
from smoldering fire is not half so great as has been pictured by non-seagoing folk. This is illustrated by the experience of the captain of the Twin Brothers, engaged some years ago in the wheat trade between San Francisco and Liverpool. The vessel was returning from Liverpool with a thousand tons of coal in the hold as ballast. Just after it rounded Cape Horn it was discovered that the coal
was on fire.

There was a steam pump on board,
and after clearing the lower hatches
the crew flooded the hold until the ship had settled about four feet lower in the water. Then the captain stood pat and let her burn. No one was frightened, and every one was confident that the ship would be safely brought into port. Call was made at Valparaiso for fresh water and provisions, but not a man deserted.

The vessel was seventy-two days in reaching San Francisco from the Horn,
and all that time the coal burned, and little streams of smoke could be seen
coming through the cracks in the deck.
Arriving at San Francisco, the Twin Brothers called out on the mud flats
and was flooded until she settled almost even with her upper deck. This extinguished the fire.

The appearance of the vessel after all this was pretty fair evidence what a ship may sustain in the way of a fire. In a dozen places the bottom had burned through, and all that was between the crew and the deep sea was the thin sheet of copper bottom. The weight of the coal and the pressure of the water kept about equal strain on both sides of the copper sheeting, and it had not broken, although it was little thicker than an ordinary tin pan.
There was one place where this copper was exposed about the bilge of the top of a barrel.—New York Tribune.

Luring the Beaver.

Beavers when they have been undisturbed for long are very curious in relation to strange sounds. They will come swimming out of their house even at the firing of a gun. The Indians usually call them with a hissing noise or one produced by munching the lips. Another favorite tale is a sound made by tapping the trousers with the hand. The most successful beaver caller in Newfoundland killed great numbers of beavers in the open season by making a sound that resembled the cutting of chips off a tree. It is said that the unfortunate beavers never fail
to respond to this noise.

Charles Lamb's Bad Cold.

When Charles Lamb was suffering with a cold he wrote the following to his friend Bernard Barton:
"Do you know what it is to succumb
under an insurmountable daymare—an indisposition to do anything or to be anything, a total deadness and distaste, a suspension of vitality, an indifference to locality, a numb soporifical good-for-nothingness, an assthen-
ia all over, an oyster-like indifference to passing events, a mild stupor, a brawny delance to the needles of a thrusting in conscience, with a total irresolution to submit to water cruel processes?"

The Canny Sailorman.

"It was a terrible situation," said Dubbleigh. "There were, hith deep in the sand and the tide rising. At the end of an hour the water was up to the floor level of the tannery, and then I managed to get hold of an old cuss with a team of horses, and he hailed us out."

"By George, that was a narrow escape. What did you give the old fellow for rescuing you?" said Higgins.
"I offered the old duffer $10, but he was a retired sea captain, and he attached the ear for salvage," said Dubbleigh.—Harper's Weekly.

Easy Waiting.

A newspaper woman, a spinster,
went to interview a member of one of the leading firms in Boston and was told to wait five minutes for him to be at liberty. Three-quarters of an hour later he came hurrying toward her with, "Well, Miss W., I would never wait so long as this for any man!" "Oh, Mr. Cole," she retorted, "if you had waited forty-five years for a man you wouldn't mind an extra half hour."—Boston Post.

Compound Fracture.

"I just saw Hunter, and he looks pretty bad. What's the matter with him, do you know?"
"Compound fracture."
"What sort of compound fracture?"
"He's broke, and Miss Richley, discovering the fact, broke her engagement to him."—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Muddled Tourist.

Absentminded Hubbard (in Paris).—
My wife asked me while I was out to get her some can de cologne. Now, what the deuce is "can de cologne" in French?—Boston Transcript.

Receiving a new truth is adding new sense to the old.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—“For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl.”—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—“I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but I decided it so that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation.”—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes, “My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and doing her very best to keep her bowels regular. If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. A PLEASANT EVENT.

At the dress rehearsal of the Woodson Choral society, last Thursday evening, the regular work was abandoned for a short time when Mrs. Sadie Gallagher, president of the society, proceeded to take matters into her own hands. In behalf of the class he gracefully presented to the director, L. Foster Hitt, a handsome umbrella as a token of their high regard. In his reply Mr. Hitt remarked that it takes an occasion like this to remind one this is a pretty good old world after all and things are really worth while.

A MOTHER'S CARE.

A careful mother will not give her child a medicine without knowing it is pure, contains no opiates, and has healing and curative qualities. Such a medicine is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Best and safest for children and grown persons. Contains no opiates. City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

YACHTING BURNED.

Yesterday afternoon Frank Sullivan, connected with Estaque, a south side boat man, was examining an alcohol lighter and placed a lighted match near it to try to ascertain the amount of alcohol in it. When it exploded, scorching his face and burning off his eyebrows. He went at once to the office of Dr. F. A. Morris and had the wound dressed. Fortunately the burns were not serious.

W. T. Badgett, member Coleman Post No. 500, Mt. Vernon, Ill., says he was long bothered with kidney troubles. “Their action was irregular and caused much distress, with a constant dull dragging pain in my back. After taking Foley Kidney Pills my kidneys have been restored to normal action and the pains dispelled. I recommend them to my friends and fellow comrades.” City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

How Malta became European. Malta underwent a geographical as well as a political change through its acquisition by England in 1811. It had always been regarded as part of Africa, to which it seemed to belong both from topography and language. After its annexation, however, it was discovered that the garrison was employed out of Europe and was there fore more privileged than the soldiers in the Ionian Islands. To remedy this parliament passed an act decreeing that so far as pay went Malta should be regarded as part of Europe. It used to be a joke that Malta had become European by act of parliament, and the jest soon became a reality. London Standard.

The Baldheaded Eagle. The bald, bald and homely bald-headed eagle, the glorious emblem of the American republic, mates but once and lives with his one mate until he or she dies. If left a widower—even a young widower—the baldheaded eagle never mates again. He remains alone and disconsolate in the nest on the rocky crag or in the branches of a tall pine that formed his domicile while his mate was alive. No other female eagle can tempt him to forsake his disconsolate life.

THREEPENNY DAY.

A Curious Old Custom That is Observed at Eton College.

On “threepenny day” a new threepenny piece is presented to each of the pupils in the famous Eton college in England. The custom was founded nearly 400 years ago by Roger Lupton, who was provost of the college from 1502 to 1535. Lupton arranged with the fellows for an annual distribution of money on the anniversary of his death. The provost received 2s. 8d., the fellows, headmaster and Lupton's chaplain 1s. 4d., the other chaplains and usher eightpence, the clerks sixpence and the scholars and choristers a penny each.

The scholars still get this penny in the threepenny pieces distributed on them on Feb. 27, the other twopence being from the gift of Provost Host. Lupton's successor as provost. There was a tradition at Eton, which has been disproved, but which subsists to the present day, that half a sheep is what the colleges really entitled to and that the colleges evade their obligation by giving the value of half a sheep in the middle of the last century a boy named Charles Henry Draywell, on being tendered his threepenny by B. Hitt, one of the fellows, said: “No, thank you, sir, I want my half sheep.”

“Bettell saw into an awful rage,” says the late Montagu Williams, who tells the story, “and exclaimed, ‘I'll mention this matter to Dr. Hawtrey and have you flogged,’ and flogged the unfortunate youth was.—New York Sun.

THE COST OF LIVING.

You Can Easily Keep It Down if You Care to Try This Plan.

In these days of high prices anxious heads of families are eagerly seeking helpful hints for keeping down expenses. As containing such a suggestion the following story of a gourmand—and sage—of the sultan's realm, told in Hester Donaldson Jenkins' “Bedlid Turkish Lattices,” is hopefully offered: It is said there was once a man who so dearly loved his evening meal that every day while he worked he did nothing but plan what it should be. At the thought of the viands his mouth would water and he would rejoice over the food that was coming.

One day it occurred to him that he got more enjoyment from the long anticipation than from the brief realization, and then the thought came to him, Why not have the anticipation without spending the money that the dinner had been costing? So he tried the plan.

“I shall have kibobs and fine plaff tonight,” he would assure himself all day, “and after that wire cake and fogurt.”

He would lick his lips in happy anticipation while he worked, and when night came he would eat a simple meal of olives and bread and remark: “This as if I had eaten.”

The plan worked so well that in the course of years he saved enough money to build a mosque, which he called “The This-as-if-I-had-Eaten Mosque.”

School Discipline. The young teacher should learn and the older teacher remember that for every teacher that falls on account of lax discipline there is another who falls on account of overgovernment. Some teachers assume the same attitude as the policeman who found two men talking on the street corner and ordered them to move on, as there was an ordinance prohibiting crowds gathering on the streets. One man remonstrated, saying that two did not make a crowd.

“One makes a crowd if I say so,” answered the policeman. A teacher who assumes that whatever he says is law, and it is law because he says it, is making a sad mistake. When the pupils have a definite aim to do and the teacher has a definite aim in what he does there will be no time or occasion to “maintain order.” It will maintain itself.—Missouri School Journal.

Origin of the Postmark. Great Britain, it is said, can without fear of contradiction claim the honor of having originated the postmark. The first one, which was used in London as long ago as 1660, was a very simple affair, consisting of a small circle divided into two parts. In the top portion were two letters indicating the month, while in the lower half the day of the month was shown. No endeavor was made to denote the year, and it is only by the dates of the letters on which the mark is impressed that it is possible to fix the date of its use. The earliest known was on a letter written in 1680.—London Telegraph.

Looking to the Future. “I guess I'll make a lawyer of Josh,” said Farmer Cornsloss.

“But your wife wants him to be a physician.”

“Yes, he's got to be a professional man, and we'd want to show our confidence in him. And I think it would be a heap safer to take Josh's law than his medicine.”—Washington Star.

Stung! “How fat and well our little boy looks.”

“Ah, you should never judge from appearances. He's got a grub on one side of his face, and he has been stung by a wasp on the other.”—Pelo Mele.

The Difference. Little Willie—What is the difference between character and reputation, pa?

SICK YEARS CURED IN MONTHS

The Same Old Story of How United Doctors Cure After Ordinary Doctors Fail to Even Relieve.

Danville, Ill., March 29, 1912.

To Sufferers:

For a long time I have suffered with a number of ailments, catarrh being the worst. For over twenty years I have suffered with a severe form of that annoying disease in my throat and head. Besides the bad headaches, which are always a feature of the trouble, my throat would fill up until, at times, I have almost choked to death.

I tried every remedy I ever heard of, I believe, besides placing myself under the care of numerous physicians, but my trouble continued unabated. Finally, about the first of this year, I heard of the great work of the United Doctors and on the 17th of January I consulted with them.

I want to state that I am now entirely free of the diseases, which had caused me annoyance and anxiety and suffering for years. Ailing twenty years and being cured in less than three months surely is something that calls for thankfulness and rejoicing. My gratitude to the United Doctors and their efficient treatment is unbounded.

Never, in all my other efforts to regain health, was I benefited in the least, and I want to say that thousands of dollars could not buy the help these specialists have given me. I earnestly urge anyone suffering with catarrh, to consult the United Doctors and gain relief.

John Lenon.

Co. I, Soldiers Home. The science of medicine has probably advanced more than any other science in the last few years, and that is saying much in this age of progress and scientific research, invention and discovery in all lines.

While the science of medicine has made great strides forward, while the leaders, the great specialists, have been going forward, followed to a lesser extent by the rank and file of the profession, there are still many doctors who hold to the old ideas; who are improvident and do much guess work, and it is this guess work on the part of doctors that is responsible for the loss of many lives that could have been saved by scientific and up-to-date treatment, such treatment as is used by the United Doctors who have their Jacksonville office on the second floor of the Farrell Bank building.

Many patients are treated by ordinary doctors for many years without any benefit, and without the doctor being able to understand the cause or know the real underlying cause of the diseases, when the patient could be quickly cured by a short course of scientific treatment as used by the United Doctors. These master medical specialists always treat the CAUSE of the disease. This is why they always succeed and their fame is growing every day.

The United Doctors' Jacksonville office is open only on each second Friday and Saturday. The next date on which it will be open is Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4. Examination is free to all.
